

Make a plan to improve your digital skills

Maybe you don't know what digital skills are right for you. That's ok. Thinking about your interests and your goals can help you see how digital skills can fit into your life.

Activity Write down a few goals and interests. Then, work with a group or partner to think of digital skills that could help you meet your goals or explore your interests.

Think about next steps

Look back at the skills you listed on page 11. Pick one skill you'd like to try and learn.

Start making a plan to meet your goal. Be sure to think about who can help you, what resources you'll need, and how you'll celebrate when you reach your goal.
